The RASP is a “Supervised Self-Screening Program” for workplace employee screening. The Province of Ontario has provided Test Kits to SDCC, free of charge, to distribute, under agreement, to small businesses with 150 employees or less in the province. The province, and by extension, SDCC, makes no guarantees about the availability or volumes of Screening Kits that may be available.

SDCC is bound by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (Ontario) and any information provided to SDCC in connection to the RASP may be subject to disclosure in accordance with the Act.

SDCC is not held responsible for the availability of the RASP test kits provided by the province.
